

Let On-Point Strategic Leadership Tame the Chaos in Your Organization!

Tame the Chaos Methodology:

Allows you to excel in the eye of the hurricane by drawing energy from the chaos to establish a dynamic, ever-increasing zone of stability

Chaos

Every organization experiences chaos in some form. Like a hurricane, chaos often leaves a wake of destruction along its path. But within each hurricane is an eye - a sanctuary from the storm. Using our techniques, you can leverage the power of the chaos itself to propel your team to remarkable strategic success.

On-Point's experts help leaders develop strategy and plans to realize their strategic objectives. Using our "Tame the Chaos" methodology, developed by Col. (Ret.) Erich Randall, PhD, we apply a systems-thinking based analysis to your organization.

We know how leaders are often hampered, even paralyzed by an overload of information, politics, social media, economic turmoil, poor communication, or more. This chaos drains resources and leads to rushed, uninformed, and ineffective decisions.

To "Tame the Chaos" we can assist you in any the following six areas:

Systems-Based Analyses are the evaluations we conduct to accurately understand your team. We use a variety of tools to get a comprehensive, current snapshot of who you are and where you want to go.

Grand Strategy, a concept typically reserved for nation-states, has application across all organizations. A strong, effective Grand Strategy provides the foundation for everything your organization does.

Strategic Design is our proprietary technique that delves deeply into the inner workings and external influences that impact every aspect of your organization. Leaders and stake-holders at every level will be able to see the complex network of moving parts and how what they do impacts the system as a whole.

Detailed Planning ensures your day-to-day activities are aligned to your strategic objectives. When they are derived from Strategic Design, the plans conform perfectly to your needs. These detailed plans will focus your efforts and move your organization forward... not just sit on a shelf.

Relentless Positive Action is a mindset of executing plans for the betterment of the team. Our systems ensure daily tasks are accomplished and the myriad of actions are completed. We will also build powerful metrics to help inform your decisions.

Seek Unabashed Excellence is a perspective that surrounds the entire strategic process. It will foster positive attitudes and enthusiasm within your organization... ensuring great success!
